Today’s Scripture:

1st Reading: Describes the call of the prophet to be like a sharp sword – a call that comes before birth itself. John the Baptist was the last of the prophets.
Psalm: Knit together in the womb of God’s design, humanity is fearfully and wonderfully made. 2nd Reading: Paul describes John’s role as a messenger, who makes way for the Saviour. Gospel: John is marked from the beginning for his signature roll in the story of salvation.

Nativity of John the Baptist

Just three birthdays are celebrated by the Church in the Liturgy each year - that of Jesus at the winter solstice, his mother’s on 8th September and that of his cousin John the Baptist near midsummer’s day. John’s birthday comes just after the longest day of the year, when light begins to decline – just as Jesus’ birthday is celebrated as days begin to lengthen. The placing of these two feasts summarises John the Baptist’s mission. ‘I must decrease, he must increase.’
